Hi Mike,

My dad received his hearing aids yesterday. It is so nice to have him hear me when I enter his home and not startle him when I walk through the door! I'm looking forward to his next appointment with his eye doctor and he can actually hear what the physician says.

I was not present when Mark brought them - but I was there when he did the testing and made the molds. That is when this photo was taken.

It will be my promise to encourage everyone I know and meet to help support your foundation...as I will also try to do.

I thank you...Harold thanks you...and his family and friends thank you.
