

Dear Mitch,

I just wanted to thank you for the hearing aides my Mom received through the Sight & Sound Foundation. Earlier this year she was very ill and had nearly lost her will to live. After receiving some excellent medical treatment she came back strong. Feeling better than she had in years she regained her interest in life and her desire to be involved in the lives of her children and grand children. Her poor hearing was making that difficult and frustrating for her and those near to her.

She could not afford to replace her broken hearing aid and I could not afford to do so for her. I went online and started searching. Somewhere I thought there must be a program that could help us. Maybe there was a way to get used hearing aids for less money. At first I was disappointed. The websites I found wanted to collect used hearing aids to send to impoverished people overseas. Good & needed programs no doubt, but where was the help for people in our own country?

When I finally came across The Sight & Sound Foundation my hope was renewed. I sent an email and what a surprise to hear back from you so quickly. After our introduction, my Mom & I collected her documents and submitted her application. We were both elated when she was accepted. In no time we were meeting with a hearing specialist in our area. Again we were pleased and grateful for the professional and caring service we received there.

Mom is now back in the world of the hearing and I cannot tell you the difference it has made in her and in her relationships with others. Our entire experience from beginning to end was a very positive one. Your organization has given her renewed hope and put a smile back on her face. She is looking forward to celebrating her 80th birthday in October.

Thank You for giving my Mom a new lease on LIFE!
